THE DAILY PROGRESS.

THE NEWS.

—For Latest News, see Fourth Page.

—A proposition is seriously talked of in Norfolk to establish a direct line of steamers between that place and Liverpool.

—The Postmaster-General has just ordered the resumption of the daily mail service from Macon to Columbus, Atlanta, Chattanooga, and to other important points in Georgia, by railroad.

—Col. J. J. Seibels, of Montgomery, Ala., died in that city on the 8th. He was formerly United States Minister to Belgium, was a Douglas man in 1860, but afterward gave in his adherence to secession, and joined the rebel army. He was a candidate for the Provisional Governorship of Alabama, and has recently been laboring earnestly to promote reconstruction

—The Richmond Republic says that after the surrender of Gen. Lee, his son, William H. F. Lee, without loss of time, repaired to the White House, determined, notwithstanding the lateness of the season, to attempt to make a crop of corn. Three young men, formerly of his command, attended him, a German and an Irishman, and two freedmen were subsequently added to their force. They began ploughing on the 29th of April, and have made a splendid crop of corn, estimated at 1,500 bushels. This example is worthy of imitation by others of the F. F. V's.

—The finances of the Treasury are moving along quietly and easily, the cash receipts from internal revenue and the customs being so liberal as to enable Mr. McCulough to meet all the urgent demands for cash which is now, from the certificate of indebtedness, falling due. About thirty millions of these mature this month, and about twenty millions during September. This will relieve the Treasury from its principal burden between this and the approaching session of Congress. The Secretary has the discretion, if required, of making a further issue of compound interest notes.

—Maj.-Gen. Meade, accompanied by Brevet Maj. Gen. Webb, Inspector-General; Col. Balchelder, Quartermaster, and Lieut-Col. Meade, A. D. C., are on a tour of inspection through the Department of Virginia, North and South Carolina, of the Military Division of the Atlantic They will be absent several weeks, and visit all the important points in these departments. They will first visit Richmond, via Gordonsville and some of the old battle-fields. Though the President has not seriously contemplated any visit to Richmond, as has been so frequently stated by the Richmond papers, it is, after all, not unlikely that he may make the proposed trip.

—Thursday the President pardoned C. H. Slocombe, of Louisiana, and Henry Taylor, of Va.

A noted woman of the Southern persuasion, now in Europe, writes a most violent and insulting letter to the President, pouring out her wrath for the "murder" as she calls it, of [illegible] Surratt.

John Muir, an old citizen, and a few years since, Mayor of Alexandria, Va., died in that city on Tuesday last. He was universally esteemed.

—Major John P. Heiss, a native of Nicaragua, and for many years a resident of Washington, died in New York on the 22d instant. He will be remembered as the editor of the Washington Union during President Polk's administration. He was also engaged for sometime on the Washington States newspaper.

—There was another railroad accident in Connecticut on Monday evening. A train on the New Haven and New London Railroad ran over a cow near Brandford, and three of the cars were thrown from the track. Ten or twelve of the employees on the train and one passenger received severe injuries; but no one was killed.

—The Mississippi State Convention has passed an ordinance declaring null and void the ordinance of the secession convention excepting that relating to revenue. The members of the convention, at an informal meeting, acquiesced in a petition to President Johnson requesting him to pardon Jeff. Davis and Clark, the rebel ex-Governor of their State.

—Another robbery was discovered in New York on the 23rd in the silverware manufactory of Francis W. Cooper, corner of Amity and Macdougal-sts., from which $10,000 worth of diamonds and silverware valued at $8,000 had been extracted. Persons on whom suspicion had been fixed were arrested and committed to the tombs, but none of the stolen property has as yet been recovered.

FAST STEAMER.—The Newbern Times of Saturday says: The Murray Line steamer Lucy, Captain Wheeler, arrived here yesterday, from New York, with a heavy freight of merchandise, consigned to Hughes & Dill. She left her dock in New York on Wednesday evening, and made the run in the remarkable short time of forty-six hours. The Lucy is one of the swiftest vessels which has ever entered this port.

ARE THEY GOING?—We refer, reader, to your teeth. Be careful. Next to your eyes, your teeth are the most precious of your facial organs. Use the fragrant ZOZODONT. It will at once arrest decay and prevent what are now, but mere specks from being orifices. In brief it will save and beautify your teeth. And it is the only thing that can save them. Reflect on this.

An Irishwoman pretending to be a wealthy Cuban has swindled large sums of money out of parties in New York. She travelled in style—loud dress, many jewels, twelve large trunks, &c., &c.,

STATE ITEMS.

GUILFORD COUNTY.—The County Court of Guilford have appointed eighteen Justices of the Peace, to administer the amnesty oath to the people of that county. Wm. A. Caldwell and Jos. A. Houston, Esqrs., will administer the oath to the citizens of the 8th and 11th districts, at Greensboro' on the 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th of September. We will publish the entire list of appointments in our next.

WILMINGTON.—The Herald says: In consequence of the great demand for stocks for the next year this species of property is bringing tremendous prices, to the injury of the place. The rent of houses for residences will, no doubt, be more moderate, partially on account of the low rent charged by the government for abandoned houses, but, principally because there is less demand for residences than stores.

There is very little money, comparatively speaking, in circulation, and those who are compelled to rent places to live in are poor persons, dependent upon small salaries for support, and who cannot afford to pay these high prices. Two officers of the government have certainly shown much sympathy for this class of persons.

TEARING DOWN THE FLAG.—The following from the Salem Press is another evidence that all our people are intensely loyal, and that everything is as quiet as a May morning. Hope we are committing no mortal sin by publishing the fact:

Some evil disposed person or persons, on Tuesday night last, at the Court House in Winston, cut down the United States flag and carried it off to parts unknown. It was a mean, low, cowardly, disloyal act, and we hope those engaged in the black deed will be ferreted out and brought to justice.—At the close of the business for which the Magistrates met at the Court House in Winston, on Thursday, an order was issued offering one hundred dollars reward for the apprehension and conviction of the perpetrators of the deed. Another flag was procured and raised at the same place.

Checking Perspiration—Facts Which Everybody Ought to Know.

Edward Everett became overheated in testifying in a court room, went to Faneuil Hall, which was cold, sat in a draft of air until his turn came to speak: "but my hands and feet were ice, my lungs on fire. In this condition I had to go and spend three hours in the court room." He died in less than a week from thus checking the perspiration. It was enough to kill any man.

Professor Mitchell, while in a state of perspiration in yellow fever, the certain sign of recovery, left his bed, went into another room, became chilled in a moment, and died the same night.

If while perspiring, or while warmer than usual from exercise or heated room, there is a sudden exposure to still, cold air, to raw, damp atmosphere, or to a draught, whether at an open window or door, or street corner, the inevitable result is a violent and [illegible] waste and impure matter, which were making their way out of the system, are compelled to seek an exit through some weaker part. The idea is presented by saying that the cold had settled in that part. To illustrate:

A lady was about getting into a small boat to cross the Delaware; but wishing first to get an orange at a fruit-stand, she ran up the banks of the river, and on her return to the boat found herself much heated, for it was summer; but there was a little wind on the water and her clothes soon felt cold, which settled on her lungs, and within the year she died of consumption.

A strong man was working in a garden in May, feeling rather tired about noon, he sat down in the shade of the house and fell asleep; he woke up chilly, inflammation of the lungs followed, ending, after two years of great suffering, in consumption. On opening his chest there was such an extensive decay, that the yellow matter was scooped out by the cupful.

A Boston ship owner, while on the deck of one of his vessels, thought he would lend a hand in some emergency, and pulling off his coat worked with a will, until he perspired freely, when he sat to rest awhile, enjoying the delicious breeze from the sea.—On attempting to rise he found himself unable, and was so stiff in his joints that he had to be carried home and put to bed, which he did not leave until the end of two months, when he was barely able to hobble down to the wharf on crutches.

A lady, after being unusually busy all day, found herself heated and tired towards sundown of a summer's day. She concluded to take a drive to town in an open vehicle. The ride made her uncomfortably cool, but she warmed herself up by an hours shopping, when she turned homeward; it being late in the evening she found herself more decidedly chilly than before. At midnight she had pneumonia (inflamation of the lungs,) and in three months she had the ordinary symptoms of confirmed consumption.

A lady of great energy of character lost her cook, and had to take her place for four days; the kitchen was warm and there was a draught of air through it. When the work was done, she, warm and weary, went to her chamber and laid down on the bed to rest. This act was repeated several times. On the fifth day she had an attack of lung fever; at the end of six months she was barely able to leave her chamber, only to find herself suffering with all the prominent symptoms of confirmed consumption, such as quick pulse, night and morning cough, night sweats, debility, short breath and falling away.

A youg lady rose from her bed on a November night, and leaned her arm on the cold window sill, to listen to a serenade. Next morning she had pneumonia, and suffered the horrors of asthma for the remainder of a long life.

Multitudes of women loose health and life every year, in one or more ways, by busying themselves in a warm kitchen until weary, and then throwing themselves on a bed or sofa, without covering, and perhaps in a room without fire; or by removing the out clothing, and perhaps change the dress for a common one, as soon as they entered the house after a walk or a shopping. The rule should be invariably to go at once into a warm room and keep on all the clothing for at least five or ten minutes, until the forehead is perfectly dry. In all weathers, if you have to walk and ride on any occasion, do the riding first.—Hall's Journal.

THE CITY.

LATE CELEBRATION.—While at the depot of the North Carolina railroad, Saturday, we saw a soldier approach and strike a negro several blows, which made the chaps bear freely. Upon inquiring of bystanders, we ascertained that the darky was not even accused of any offence, but had been assaulted because of an attack made by one of his class on a Federal soldier the night previous, in which the latter suffered severely. It was even reported yesterday morning that the sufferer had died from the injuries received.

But whether dead or living, he was injured, and thus the spirit of caste has been aroused. It is nothing more than we have predicted. If the negroes of the South continue to attempt an assertion of their social equality with the the whites, whether soldiers or citizens they will deny it to them.—We insist that they shall be kindly treated, but at the same time they must deserve it by manifesting proper respect for the army as well as the citizens. Unless they so act, they will have no friends either in the North or South.

COUNTERFEIT $50 NOTES.—Nearly every week there comes from Washington, as if by authority, the statement that there are no counterfeits of the national currency in circulation. But the fact is really different, as the frequent arrest and conviction of forgers demonstrates. The latest bogus process, however, appears to be an elaboration of "fives" into "fifties." This is accomplished by pasting the figures "50" over the "five" in the upper corners of the note, and also upon the back.—The words "Five Dollars" in the centre of the face of the note are extracted by means of acid, and "Fifty Dollars" printed in its place The small figures around the margin of the note are covered respectively with green and black ink. The entire work is issued with great care, and is well calculated to deceive. They may be easily distinguished, however, by the engravings, the genuine five having on the face representation of Columbus in 1492 and of Pocahontas, and on the reverse the landing of Columbus, while on the fifties there are representations of Washington crossing the Delaware at Valley Forge, and on the reverse the embarkation of the Pilgrims.

THE BRITTIAN HOUSE.—Attention is directed to the card of Messrs. Keogh & Crane, in this morning's issue. Referring to them, the Greensboro' Patriot says:

"The Britian House.—This Hotel building, which since the death of its former proprietor has been closed, has been leased for a term of years by Messrs. Keogh & Crane, who are renovating and refitting the House from cellar to garret, with new furniture and fixtures, and will open it on Monday. Under their management we feel [illegible] will rank among the first hotels in the State. Messrs. Keogh & Crane are among our most active and enterprising citizens.

We are from personal knowledge able to confirm all our cotemporary urges respecting the firm.—They are gentlemen of taste, liberality and enterprise, and parties visiting Greensboro' will no doubt find their accommodations of superior quality.

NOISY.—Last night about 11 o'clock, people resident in the southwestern part of the city were treated to a most unusual serenade by a party of men who were either drunk or crazy. After indulging themselves for half an hour or more in hussas, shrieks and imprecations, they were either marched off by the guard, or abandoned the diabolic from sheer exhaustion.

The question is, where were the custodians of the night. People may get mellow if they please, so long as they effect only themselves; but it becomes a matter of public concern when they disturb the quiet of whole neighborhoods. Let them be cooped.

FARRISS, Charley the inimitable, has returned from the North with an elegant stock of cloths, cassimeers and other goods, which are now being opened at his store, next to the Progress office.—His stock of gentlemens' furnishing goods is large and well selected, and he can furnish or make up to order whatever the most fastidious may require. We advise all in search of new clothes, especially if they want fine fabrics and elegant fits, to call on our neighbor.

THE CITY POST OFFICE.—Postmaster Miller, we hear, has secured two rooms in the bank building on the southwest corner of Fayetteville and Hargett streets, and will transfer the office to that point either to-day or to-morrow.

We congratulate the people on the location of the post office. As in most small places, so in Raleigh in by-gone times, it was the practice to occupy the least attractive and convenient building for such use. Postmaster Miller in effecting a change in that particular, has entitled himself to the thanks of the community and we receive it as an augury that in other things he will evince laudable enterprise.

APPOINTED.—Mr. B. P. Pearson, of Charlotte, has been appointed a messenger of the Southern Express Company, between that point and Raleigh. He is an energetic man with high reputation for spotless integrity. Long may he wave!

THEATRICAL:—A letter from Petersburg, received last evening, mentions as probable the visit to Raleigh of a celebrated theatrical corps. We know it would pay the manager handsomely, if a building suitable for such performances could be had. Unfortunately, the City Hall is not adapted for such exhibitions.

[illegible] Improvement.—The handsome private dwelling that [illegible] and almost ever adorning on the Progress, is handsomely illustrated this morning. We invite attention to the issue of

B. Manson—House wanted.

CHANGE OF QUARTERS.—Capt. McIver, Provost Marshal and Commandant of this post, has removed to the office of Dr. Haywood, up postairs the Presbyterian Church. The military have entirely withdrawn from the Capitol and given it up to the Governor and other civil officers.

FOR NEW YORK.—The fine steamship, Cornell, Capt. Phillips, will sail from Morehead city next Saturday, direct for New York. The arrangements for freight and passengers are such to [illegible] can be desired.

TROOPS GONE.—The 3rd New York did not leave here on Saturday as it was thought they would, but we learn they will certainly go this morning, and that the 47th will go to-morrow.

DAILY PROGRESS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

MONDAY, AUG. 28, 1865.

Mississippi and the Constitutional Amendment.

Missippi is atoning to some extent for the sins of the past. We gave on Saturday the ordinance passed by the Convention of that State, now in session, abolishing slavery forever. It reads as follows:

"The institution of slavery having been destroyed in the State of Mississippi, neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, otherwise than for the punishment of crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall hereafter exist in this State; and the Legislature at its next session, and thereafter as the public welfare may require, shall provide by law for the protection and security of the persons and property of the freedmen of the State, and guard them and the State against any evil that may arise from their sudden emancipation."

This is what all the seceded States must do, and it should be done with promptitude and cheerfulness. It is good policy and to their interest to accept the condition as they find it, and it should be done without regrets, repinings or prejudices for the past. Slavery is not only dead, but in the reorganization of the State governments, the constitutions and laws must be so framed as to give the blacks the same security, as to persons and property, that other persons have: or in other words, the freedmen must have the same protection, under the law, that free persons of color enjoyed before the war. The ordinance passed by the Mississippi Convention says the "Legislature shall provide by law for the protection and security of the persons and property of the freedmen of the State, and guard them and the State against any evil that may arise from their sudden emancipation."

This is highly conservative and we are glad to see that Mississippi, among the first States to move in the work of rebellion, should not only evince a willingness to submit to the result of the war, but that her Convention should show such a willingness to do entire justice to those unfortunate creatures who have been set free by the upheavings caused by the revolution. The State of JEFFERSON DAVIS has certainly started well, as far as this ordinance is concerned, and we hope her people will hold out.

The following is the joint resolution which passed both houses of Congress by a two-thirds vote, providing for the constitutional abolition of slavery:

"Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, (two thirds of both houses concurring,) That the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the constitution of the United States which, when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid, to all intents and purposes, as a part of said Constitution, namely:

"ARTICLE XIII.

"SECTION 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United State, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

"SECTION 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

"Approved February 1, 1865."

Now every man who takes the amnesty oath, swears in the presence of Almighty God to accept and abide by this constitutional amendment; and he who thinks of re-enslaveing the colored race, after the taking of the said oath, is a perjured creature.

Will the North Carolina State Convention adopt this amendment? We believe it will, and we trust unanimously, but if some of the agitators who are now intrigueing for seats in that body succeed in getting there, we fear such will not be the case. We should be very much mortified if eleven men should get to our Convention who would vote against the adoption of the constitutional amendment. But we suppose those who voted against it in Mississippi belonged to the chivalry who swore they meant to leave the State if it did not secede.

To secure a place in the Union and the protection of the government, we must not only pursue a wise, discreet and liberal policy, but we must show to those who have the controlling power in Congress that we are unanimous in our loyalty—that there is no discord, jarring or disaffection in our councils. Some of our presses and people speak of those who control the United States government, the majority in Congress and in the cabinet, as radicals, and sneeringly swear they will never consent to so and so; but we tell them that their threats are but a repetition of the bravado of besotted traitors in 1860, before the war commenced, and that the sooner their prejudices give way to reason and common sense the better for them and the whole people. Those who defended the government and who poured out their blood and treasure to preserve the Union, will hardly allow a conquered enemy, however repentant, to dictate terms of reconstruction and restoration. We must go back as they will receive us, or not at all.

Let our people see to it that none but men who are desirous of harmonizing with the northern people and such as will do all in their power to secure the favor of the government by a liberal and thoroughly loyal course, have seats in the approaching State Convention.

Don't Want a County Convention.

We have expressed the opinion that but few of the loyal citizens of Wake wanted a Convention to nominate candidates for the Convention, but it now seems that some of the gentlemen whose names were put to the call for one, without authority, repudiate the whole affair.—We think we may positively assert that no fair expression of opinion can be had in the body that is to meet on Saturday next. The following repudiation of the call, by one of the gentlemen whose name appears in the list, appears in the Standard of Saturday:

"A circular appeared in this paper a few days ago, signed by Mr. Henderson A. Hodge and others, requesting the voters of Wake County to assemble in Convention and nominate three men as delegates to the State Convention.

We are requested by Mr. Hodge to state that his name must have been signed by mistake, as he did not intend to authorize it, and is not in favor of a Convention. Mr. Hodge requests this notice may be inserted by all papers that have published the circular with his name attached.

How many other names were put to the call without authority we do not know. Of one thing we are certain, there can be no full representation of the various districts in so short a time even were the people generally favorable to the holding of a County Convention. A large number of the loyal voters of the county considered their ticket made out by the expression that had been made by a number of large meetings, and had not a few good men listened to bad men and been seduced into the call for a County Convention to nominate candidates, all would have been well.

What the result of the whole affair will be it it will require about one week more to tell.

How the Seceded States are to get Back—What will be Required of the People.

The following extracts from the National Intelligencer are worthy the attention of the people of North Carolina. We are for the Union and with the party that has put down the rebellion and saved the government, and we tell the citizens of North Carolina that they have got to choose between going back into the Union on such terms as those who have put down the rebellion choose to dictate, or the continuance of military rule. No use for those who claimed the right to secede and break up the government at will, to speak of their rights now, for the government does not concede and will never admit that they have any, until their returning loyalty shall give an earnest of better intentions. We are as proud of our State as any reasonable man ought to be, and have as much native pride as our more noisy neighbors; and yet we declare that we are in favor of returning to the Union just upon such terms as the Congress of the United States may be disposed in its wisdom and justice to accord to us. Our section risked all upon the cast of the die and lost, and now we insist, as we often said during the reign of the rebellion, that there can be but one party to the terms upon which we, as a State, shall resume our allegiance.

The suggestions of the Intelligencer appeal to the common sense of the Southern people; if we heed them we shall soon again have the protection of the government and the association of the loyal States, but if we spurn them it [illegible] will the people of North Carolina decide? Wisely we hope:

THE SOUTH MUST SPEEDILY AND WITH WILL, BY ITS LEGISLATURES, CONVENTIONS, NEWSPAPERS, PUBLIC MEETINGS, RESOLUTIONS, &C., SHOW ITS GOOD FAITH AND HONESTY OF PURPOSE.

"And therefore it is indispensable to Southern interests, to their speedy equality, to the life of commerce, to their national representation, to the supremacy of civil law, to the freedom they covet from the military power established among them, that they shall fly as it were to put at rest the possibility of future national disturbances on account of slavery, by accepting the amendment to the Constitution of the United States and by ratifying the same unanimously, if possible, which interdicts slavery forevermore upon our soil. Let this be done with a will, and superadd to this the selection of candidates for office from among men of honest intentions and sentiments towards the new order of things; give expression by conventions and resolutions to the sentiments which your newspapers declare that the great masses of the people of the South entertain; throw away as unworthy, even of the few who so act, such mottoes as 'Subdued but not conquered;' strive daily against disturbances with the wretched, and often insolent blacks. Do these things, and it will be out of the power either of the enemies in your midst who malign you to the President and to the public through interested sources, or of the extreme Radicals of the North, to subject you long to the burdens and humiliations of which you complain. You will thus relieve the President and his administration, as we feel quite sure, of a weight of doubt and sadness; you will baffle your enemies, because you will thereby empty their magazines of offence, and you will entitle yourselves to the open and earnest support of the Northern masses against all the tricks of conspiring politicians. Then these Northern aggressives will yield voluntarily, or be forced to yield by a just people, who, while they are resolved that the South shall give up forever all the points acquired and won by the hard-fought war—and this for the sake of the future of the whole nation—are, nevertheless, the defenders of the South, even as their brethren, against more cruelty, bigotry and persecution."

THE PRESIDENT WILL NOT FORCE NEGRO SUFFRAGE ON THE SOUTH.

"The President of the United States—we affirm this from his public acts—has no design to force negro suffrage on the South. Therefore let this 'bugbear' die. Such an issue would defeat any party in the North—that is, unless the South shall turn out in the end to deceive the hopes of its Northern friends. The Chief Magistrate reposes on a clear and immovable position. His policy, in effect, says: 'You see the provisions of my Act of Amnesty; I have also given you the form of civil life; I also desire to see a new order of patriotism in the South. While I recognise the States as within the Union, I demand likewise for the nation all the results for which the war was fought. It is for you to do the rest. I garrison the South for an obvious reason.—It is for the South herself to say whether her probation shall be long or short.' And these things he has a constitutional right to say and to demand."

We give below the extract from the article in the Intelligencer, which we ask our readers to carefully peruse:

WHAT THE PRESIDENT AND THE CONSERVATIVES OF THE NORTH ALIKE DEMAND OF THE PEOPLE OF THE SOUTH.

"The North will not accept any condition of restoration which does not embrace the extinction of slavery by positive constitutional law. The patriotic and sagacious President of the United States has informally declared this fact; and his lamented predecessor emphatically avowed it when he referred the ultimate question of his emancipation proclamation to the courts. Contraband of war, slavery has perished by the sword, and it is only a renewal of civil war to assert any claim to it. It has met the fate to which in the order of Providence it was doomed, and this fate was decreed by yourselves at the moment when the flag of our country was fired upon as it floated over Fort Sumter. Pray do not deceive, do not stultify yourselves on that point!—Whatever absurd politicians in the North may say or attempt to the contrary, slavery is doomed by the people, and those are only your enemies in the North who seek for party purposes to delude you that there is the slightest hope for the institution in future. Just so long as any claim is set up for the resuscitation of slavery by anything that can be made to look like a conspiracy to that effect among the politicians North and South, just so long will the masses of the North justly insist that you shall be held down in a territorial condition, and that you shall be denied equality as States within the Union."

THE CLASS OF PERSONS WHO SHOULD BE ELECTED TO OFFICE BY THE SOUTHERN PEOPLE.

"So with regard to such men as you will put forward to fill offices of dignity and trust. If these are selected to fill your local posts of honor and credit from among notorious rebels—men whose names have been associated with the conspiracy that led to the rebellion—such acts will be received as evidence and such evidence will ripen into judgment that the tone of the South is seditious, and that the rebellion is unsubdued; while it is simply impossible that men of that class can be admitted to the Congress of the United States. Let us admonish you to look these facts in the face with the keen sight of patriotism and common sense, and to regulate your conduct accordingly. It will be only 'kicking' against 'the pricks,' it will be only overturning conservatism and enthroning radicalism in the North, it will be only prolonging military rule in the South, if you shall insist on the experiment of seeking to restore such old traitors, or to give position to new ones with like sentiments in regard to the issues which the nation means shall now be forever settled. And these remarks apply with like force to all State legislation which diverges from the great judgment pronounced by American people who have now suppressed the armed rebellion.

THE PEOPLE OF THE SOUTH MUST NOT CONFOUND RADICAL PARTY TRICKERY WITH NORTHERN SENTIMENT.

"There may, and probably will be, candidates of bad antecedents presented, and silly resolutions passed by political bodies in the North, whose efforts will surely be crushed by utter defeat, whose effect may be to feed Northern radicalism in its unconstitutional demands against the South; but it is in the power of the South, by public meetings and addresses, to disavow and to rebuke these jugglers, who are not incorporate with any great Northern re-organization, but who only play local parts for local ends. Be not deceived by such! The great body of the North marches one way, under the present guidance of the President, and that way the war has demonstrated as we have hereinbefore explained. So, on the other hand, other parties will desire to set up the rebellion only to knock it down again, as so much political thunder, brutum fulmen. But let the South be not discouraged or dismayed on that account, for these likewise are but the games of local politicians, and they will simply react and strengthen the South if the South will only promptly, instantly assert itself in act as it represents itself in the Southern gentlement The South must hasten to place itself above suspicion by all its public acts if it would get rid of the numerous 'misrepresentations' of which it complains.—The time is short, for prejudices soon harden into adamantine walls of separation—and the Union is the only place of refuge and of hope for the South—the Union, where the loyal Northern masses long to see and to welcome her."

"Above all if their intentions are good, they must not despond, but cheerily and courageously they must bear the thorns of punishment, though they bleed; remembering always that the President of the land is the President and father of the whole people, and that he is not the head of a merciless and barbarous party sent on Southern humiliation and destruction. We believe him to be an able, sound-headed, patient, patriotic, humane, firm, cautious, and candid man, whose heart's desire it is to crown his administration with the union of these States, a reward higher and brighter than any other within mortal power to confer; and he is shrewd enough to see through tricksters when their game is clearly before him, if it shall be exposed as a foul game by the undeviating loyalty of the South; and, furthermore, let the South be assured, if they are patient and true, that behind the President there is a Northern sentiment even stronger than her myriad of resistless armies, and which is, that our Union of consent and equality shall be restored on the basis of universal freedom and of one overruling sovereign nationality. Let the South instantly accept, and everything declare, and politically act upon this platform, and our glorious Union is alive again in all its original spirit. Then those foul birds called demagogues will flee, for a time at any rate from before the face of a re-awakened and united nation, and we shall indeed be one people. All our hopes rest with you, men of the South—in your patriotism, patience, self-denial and sagacity."

KITTRELL'S SPRINGS

Female Collegiate Institute,

GRANVILLE COUNTY, N. C.

THIS celebrated Watering Place will be opened as an Institution of Learning on the first Wednesday in October next, with a full and competent Board of Instructors.

This new Institution furnishes advantages such as are to be found at no other school in the South. The buildings are all new, within a half mile of Kittrell's Depot, on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, and sufficient to accommodate three hundred boarders, besides abundant room for school purposes.

The character of the mineral water found here is too well known to the whole country to need a remark. It has been pronounced by the best scholars and physicians to be equal in its analysis and effects to any in North Carolina or Virginia.

It will be our object to perpetuate here an Institution for the education of females that shall be an ornament to the South; and we have the most gratifying assurances to this effect from every part of the country.

Terms moderate, (cheap as any school of similar grade) payable one-half in advance, in U. S. currency, or provisions at market rates. Bank notes taken at their market value.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—

It is apparent that the canvass now progressing in this county among friends of gentlemen whose names are before the people for the Convention, will be of a bitter and most unpleasant nature.

In saying this, we cast no reflection upon gentlemen who are candidates, or their supporters. But this is an hour for unity and peace! The safety, the welfare, the prosperity of our State depends upon the selection of acceptable, loyal and able men. Let not the citizens of Wake fail of their duty. Therefore, let them cast about and adopt those measures which are best calculated to quiet the public mind, and adjust the conflicting interests of our friends and those who have hitherto been friends among themselves. In other words, we desire to solidify and strengthen the Union party in this county and achieve a triumph for it at the approaching election.

We submit to you therefore, the propriety of immediately assembling a County Convention, each district thereof to be represented by the best citizens, and proceed to nominate a ticket. All that any one can ask and all that we can desire is a fair Convention. In order to secure this indispensible prerequisite, let district meetings be held at once to choose delegates for that purpose. Let those delegates then assemble in Convention, in Raleigh, the 1st Saturday in September next, and proceed to nominate candidates. A ticket thus formed, we trust, will be acceptable to the masses of our honest and patriotic people.

We repeat, fellow-citizens, that we do not desire to injure the prospects of any one, but are looking only to the best interests of our party and our country. We appeal to you, therefore, to act speedily, and immediately upon the receipt of this, or as soon thereafter as possible, to hold your district meetings and appoint your delegates.—The election is near at hand, and unless we act promptly it will find us disorganized and torn by conflicting issues and factions.

REAL ESTATE AGENCY.

REAL ESTATE AGENCY.

NORTH CAROLINA ADVERTISER

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVE ESTABLISHED in the City of Raleigh, an Agency for the purpose of buying and selling Real Estate in North Carolina. In connection therewith, and as auxiliary thereto, they will publish a double sheet, twenty-four column weekly newspaper, wherein will be advertised, free of cost, all lands offered for sale through their agency, and which will be devoted to the dissemination of information concerning the agricultural, mineral, manufacturing and other resources of the State. By means of competent Agents in every county they will show the present advancement and special capabilities for future development of each.

It will be found, on investigation, that no State in the Union can present such a combination of advantages as North Carolina. Situated midway between the cold regions of the North and the more tropical climes of the South, its land stretching from the sea-coast to the mountains, yield bountiful returns of cotton, tobacco, rice, grain, fruits, pasturage, grapes and other products, while in its bosom lie rich mines of gold and iron, copper, lead, coal, and other minerals, its rivers afford water power sufficient for the most extensive factories, and in its forests are boundless supplies of naval stores, timber and materials for tanning. Under the recent change in the system of labor it becomes the interest of proprietors to part with a portion of their real estate, and it is the object of this enterprise, through agencies in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and other chief cities to bring these abundant resources of the State to the notice of men of energy and capital, to get together the seller and the buyer, and to aid in starting North Carolinians on a career of prosperity heretofore unknown.

The ADVERTISER will be furnished free of charge to all customers, and to others at One Dollar per annum. The first number will be issued by the first of July, or sooner, if the type and necessary material already ordered, can be procured from New York before that time. Those desiring to advertise in the first number will please communicate to the undersigned at once. Moderate commissions will be charged where sales are made.

Our President—A Living Statesman—The Man for the Crisis.

The following from the New York Herald is but a just tribute to the present head of the nation. Here in North Carolina where President Johnson first saw light and where his earlier days were spent, these sentiments will be appreciated:

The President of the United States occupies today the most prominent and salient position of any potentate of the earth, representing as he does, the model republic—the States of North America—a power whose colossal proportions, consolidated by the war, must throw its lengthening shadow across the continent of Europe.

Within the last few months the thought and intellect and statesmanship of the world have been on the qui vive to know what manner of man now occupies so exalted a position. This inquiry assumes a peculiar and touching interest among the intelligent and patriotic masses of this country, who have been engaged in the great industrial and business pursuits, and in its battles rather than its politics, now that the bloody drama of civil strife is closed.

The writer, sometimes, differing with Mr. Johnson, has had ample opportunity of studying his peculiar and marked traits of character. His early history of late has been frequently the topic of newspaper paragraph and sketch. These are in the main correct; but it is his cast and grade of mind and intellect, his moral force and stamina that the people are peculiarly interested in knowing.

As a politician Mr. Johnson has never been pretentious or noisy. He knows but little of what is called tactics and party drill, but no one more thoroughly comprehends the intrigues of politicians and is as little likely to be caught in their toils.—He knows nothing of the cozening and appliances of the grocery or pothouse chieftain.

In his deportment among his immediate constituents he has been plain, unassuming, not to say modest, and has always won his way to the public favor by the clear and natural brilliancy of his mind, his intense earnestness of purpose, and a real sympathy with the masses.

Believing literally that this is a government of the people, he has acted honestly upon that hypothesis in the various struggles in which changes of administration and public policy have thrown him. No one more thoroughly thinks and acts for himself, yet open at all times to suggestion, to light and information.

He is very careful in investigating facts and laying down his premises; that being done, he drives home his conclusions with a clearness and logical force of deduction unequaled. He has none of the arts of the rhetorician, no words of flattery, no set phrase of speech; but no man in America can more thoroughly fix the attention of his audience. His public discussions have been mainly in his own State, where his peculiar manner is well known, and where he had to meet in succession in his canvass for Governor two of the ablest popular orators of the age.

Mr. Henry was an eminent lawyer, and a descendant of the great Patrick Henry, with much of the fire and brilliancy of his ancestor, and Mr. Gentry a self-made man, like Mr. Johnson, and whose elocution for dramatic effect was surpassed only by that of Mr. Clay; yet these were both defeated, with a party majority in their favor at the opening of each canvass.

Mr. Johnson has been a close student. He has never found time for the dissipation too often incident to public life. Perhaps no public man of his time is so free from the ordinary vices. That he is or ever has been a winebibber is a gross calumny.

No question has arisen connected with the politics of the country that he has not thoroughly investigated and exhausted. His mind abhors an absurdity as nature abhors a vacuum. Whatever opinions he entertains or line of conduct he may prescribe for his action are the result of clear conviction. To think or to act otherwise would be to violate his natural instinct.

He is a man gifted with the highest intellectual powers, and fully competent to try conclusions with the ablest men of his age upon any subject he has had the opportunity to investigate. Even upon a legal question, if the authorities and facts were laid before him, and the occasion were fit, he would prove himself a match for the Chief Justice.

Sound in body, as he is sound in mind, his moral and physical courage have never been questioned.—The position which he maintained in the Senate of the United States for the Union, the powerful speech which he delivered demonstrating the paramount authority of the federal government, his unhesitating and onward course to the close of the war, amidst the disaffection of his entire section, evinced a moral courage unsurpassed by the most brilliant feat of arms.

The people of every section and shade of opinion should trust him, for he will prove himself equal to the mighty task of reconstruction, and thorough master of the situation.

Mark the prediction. No man since the days of General Jackson will so thoroughly stamp his own individuality upon the administration of the government.

Old party lines will be wiped out, and he will rally around him a great national party, whose watchwords will be solidity, strength and glory of our once more united country. The Union, the national honor and the national credit, they must and shall be preserved. Always in sympathy with the great mass and heart of the nation, he will administer the government upon sound and broad principles, seeking the greatest good for the greatest number, and any combinations or cliques that may attempt to pull him down will only find themselves lifted up.

Horses and Mules will be put aside in lots of 12, 24, and 48, each; the Wagons in lots of 2, 4 and 8 each; and the Harness in lots of 12, 24 and 48 single setts, each. Proposals will only be considered for the whole of each separate lot.

A number of Four-Mule and Six-Mule Teams, with Harness and Wagons, will also be set aside at each point named, and proposals received for single Teams, with the Wagons and Harness complete.

Proposals should be addressed to the undersigned, at Raleigh; and should be endorsed—"proposals for the purchase of public property."

The right is reserved to reject all bids that may be offered.

Successful bidders will be notified in person or by telegraph; and will be required to remove the property on or before September 8th.

Full information, and blanks for proposals, will be furnished on application by letter or in person to the undersigned, or to Lieut. Simpson, A. A. Q. M., Charlotte; Capt. A. M. Garoutte, A. Q. M., Raleigh; Captain U. H. Wheeler, A. Q. M., Newbern; and Captain D. W. H. Day, A. Q. M., Raleigh.

Payment must be made in Government funds on the delivery of the property.

All Mules offered in this manner are sound and serviceable—a large proportion of them far superior to any offered for sale at auction in the Department. This will be the only opportunity planters and others will have of purchasing this class of stock from the Government.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1865.
The Great Invention of the Age in Hoop Skirts.
J. W. BRADLEY'S NEW PATENT DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, (OR DOUBLE) SPRING SKIRT.

THIS INVENTION CONSISTS OF DUPLEX (OR two) Elliptic Pure Refined Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable Spring ever used. They seldom bend or break, like the Single Springs, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful shape more than twice as long as any Single Spring Skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any Lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm-Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress.

A Lady having Enjoyed the Pleasure, Comfort and Great Convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

The Hoopskirt covered with Triply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the Single yarn covering which is used on all Single Steel Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps, &c., &c., which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

WEBB, BRADLEY & CARY, (late J. I. & J. O. Webb,) Proprietors of the Invention, and sole manufacturers, 97 Chambers and 79 & 81 Reade Streets, New York.

For sale in all first-class stores in this City, and throughout the United States and Canada, Havana de Cuba, Mexico, South America and the West Indies.

WIRZ.

The Wirz Commission reassembled on the 23d. Colonel Chipman read an order from the War department, dated yesterday, dissolving the former commission, but appointing another, consisting of the same members. These were again sworn, and Capt Wirz again arraigned, when the charges and specifications were read. The alterations include the striking out of the names of Robert E. Lee, Jas. A Seddon and Lucious D. Northrop, as some of those with whom the prisoner is accused of combining and conspiring to impair and injure the health, and to destroy the lives, by subjecting to torture and great suffering of large numbers of Federal prisoners, to the number of 30,000 soldiers in the military service of the United States, held as prisoners at Andersonville, &c. The charge of murder is retained. The specifications include the most cruel punishments and acts of barbarity. Judge Hughes spoke of those proceedings, arraigning the prisoner on a new set of charges, &c., without giving counsel due notice. as extraordinary, and asked that additional time be given to enable the prisoner to prepare for his defence. This was granted, and the court adjourned until noon.—The counsel for Wirz have retired, conceiving they have done all they could under the circumstances.

REBEL OFFICERS INDICTED.

A telegram from Harrisburg, dated August 24, says:

The Grand Jury of Franklin county returned true bills of indictment against the following rebel General McCausland, Major Gilmor, and Captain Smith for arson, and others are pening for highway robbery against McCausland.

We understand that the rebel General Early will also be indicted for murder, arson and highway robbery as his order was shown in Chambersburg directing freebooters to levy a tribute, and in default of payment to burn the town.

PARDONS.

LENIENCY AT AN END.

GOV. PARSONS PUTS HIS FOOT DOWN.

From different sources, we obtain the following important and interesting news relative to pardons:

ALABAMA PARDONS.

Gov. Parsons, of Alabama, telegraphs to the President: "Please suspend all petitions for pardon recommended by me prior to this date." It is not explained what prompted the Governor to make this request, but it is believed that the object was to head off a batch of Alabamians who arrived in Washington to urge their own petitions for pardon.

THE PRESSURE FOR PARDON.

The President was again overwhelmed on the 23d by a crowd of visitors, among whom were a dozen ladies. Most of those in waiting were pardon-seekers, in whose cases the Attorney-General has already issued warrants, but which yet await the signature of the President. The crowd was so great as even to encroach upon the private office of the Private Secretary, interrupting the public business and annoying the gentlemen in charge.

A QUIETUS.

The Washington Republican says:

We are glad to be able to state that President Johnson yesterday announced his purpose to quite a crowd of rebel applicants for pardon, that he should grant no more pardons for the present, and directed his Secretary, Colonel Browning, to notify the Attorney General of the United States to recommend to him no more persons for pardon under the Amnesty Proclamation until he so ordered.

Quite a scene occurred in the President's room yesterday. Some fifty persons were present, most of them seeking pardons. A Mr. Keitt, of South Carolina, (not Lawrence M., he having been killed by a loyal bullet at Fort Wagner,) approached the President and informed him that he desired a pardon. 'What have you done?' said Mr. Johnson. 'I opposed secession until my State decided to go out of the Union, and then I determined to go with it; I never joined the army; I did nothing to bring on the rebellion,' was the reply. 'I see,' rejoined the President, 'you are like all the rest—you did nothing.—Now,' he added, 'my experience is that the men who didn't join the rebel army, but who acquiesced in rebellion, were the most mischievous and dangerous men we had. I cannot pardon you sir.' Keitt made several other efforts. Among other things he reminded the President that he had come all the way from South Carolina; had been in Washington some time; that hotel living there was very high, and that, altogether, his daily expenses were extravagantly large, and that he would like to get away as soon as he could go. The President responded that the hardships of which he complained were the direct results of the rebellion; that he did not bring on, nor contribute to bring on the rebellion; that he was not responsible for, and could not extricate Mr. Keitt from the difficulties he complained of, nor hasten his pardon on account of them. The President was firm. His answer was a finality. Exit Keitt.

Mr. Keitt retired, evidently satisfied that Mr. Johnson was President, and that treason was a stain not removed by the mere asking for a signature.

A Mr. Birch, member of the late rebel legislature of Virginia, next approached the President and applied for a pardon. Similar questions were put to him by the President as were asked Mr. Keitt. From the answers it appears that Birch "did nothing," only as a member of the Virginia Legislature, in obedience to instructions, he voted that Virginia should secede from the Union of the United States. That is all he did, that was 'nothing.' The President refused to pardon him. Exit Birch.

Next came a rebel clergyman, who asked the President to grant him a pardon. 'What great sin have you committed that you come here in clerical robes and crave Executive pardon?'

'I was a rebel,' was the answer, 'and desire your Excellency to pardon me that I may be restored to citizenship, and be able to support and live under the Government of the United States.'

'You rebel preachers,' responded the President, 'have done the Government a great deal of harm; you have proclaimed devilish doctrines and misled the people. You forgot that it was your duty to 'yield obedience to the powers that be.' You must rest awhile upon the 'stool of repentance.' I decline to grant you a pardon at present.' Exit rebel clergymen.

The President then remarked, addressing the entire crowd in the room, that it was a little singular that most of the non-combatants who had come here from the South for pardon assert that they did nothing, were opposed to the rebellion at the beginning, only acquiesced, and thought the Rebel Government ought to have interfered earlier and stopped bloodshed; yet not one of them took advantage of the Amnesty Proclamation offered by Mr. Lincoln, which would have shown sincerity on their part, and contributed so much towards saving the enormous expenditure of life and treasure. I will grant no more pardons for the present was the emphatic conclusion of the President, and turning to Colonel Browning he directed him to issue the order to the Attorney General referred to above.

This was a glorious day's work for the country, and the people will not forget to thank Andrew Johnson for it.

A Washington dispatch to the New York Herald, says:

The President's door was thrown open at the usual hour and the room was soon filled with a motley crowd of both sexes. As usual, two-thirds of those present desired pardons for themselves or friends, but the bearing of the President toward such applicants has been noticeably changed of late. His sense of justice revolts at the bare idea of bribery and corruption being instrumental in obtaining the pardon of any one. The Herald's exposure of an instance last week in which five hundred dollars, paid to Hon. Thomas Corwin, secured what the applicant seemed otherwise unable to obtain, appears to have first called his attention to the subject and aroused the suspicions. He is now determined to exercise the greatest caution in the matter, and to give each individual case his undivided personal attention. His first step, therefore, was to suspend action in the Attorney General's office upon all applications for pardon until some disposition has been made of those already accumulated. No more requisitions are to be made on the State Department for pardon until further orders.

The President is reported to have been severe in his remarks to those who approached him on the subject of pardons to-day. One old gentleman had a letter in his possession stating that his pardon could be obtained for nine hundred dollars. The President desired to know who offered to obtain it for that sum. He wanted above all things to ascertain who the men were that accepted bribes. He said he had been notified that unfair and dishonest influences were used to obtain pardons, but he desired specific information instead of generalities, and declared that his office was the pardon office, and that the Attorney General's office had little to do with it. The newspapers might assert that two hundred were pardoned daily because that number of requisitions passed through the Attorney General's office; but he wished the fact to be known that he investigated each case himself, and only granted such petitions as recommended themselves to his clemency. Some of those present asked for permission to call again for a further consideration of their cases. The President significantly replied—"It would be some time before many more pardons were granted." This would seem to dispose of the project of organizing a separate Pardon Bureau.

The Star says:

An unusually large crowd of pardon seekers assembled at the office of the Attorney General to-day, completely filling up the ante-room and worrying the courteous pardon clerks, Colonel Pleasants and Major Stitt, almost beyond endurance. Many of these applicants defeat their own purpose by their persistent importunities. They are not even willing to await their own turn for an interview, but interrupt others conversing with the clerks, and in many other ways render themselves a nuisance. The work of this office is conducted with the greatest dispatch, and parties having business with it will never lose by observing the customary civilities of gentlemen.—Among those awaiting an interview with the Attorney General this morning was Lieutenant General Ewell, who called on the President on Saturday in relation to his application for pardon. The President courteously but firmly declined to make any exception in his favor, and "Mr. Ewell" (as he introduced himself) will remain in the same category with his brother rebel leaders.

PROSPECTUS
AND
IT is proposed, in connection with a General Printing Business, to publish a
DAILY, SEMI-WEEKLY AND WEEKLY JOURNAL
IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH,
bearing the above title. As its name imports, it will primarily be devoted to the interests of those classes of the community embraced in the designation, and will strive to elevate and advance them in accordance with the progressive ideas of the era. At the same time it will not be unmindful or unappreciative of the wants of the general public. While it will not enter the arena of political gladiatorship, it will be made the vehicle of independent discussion of State or National exigencies, as they may arise,—always consistent with an unswerving loyalty to the common Government.
It will give all the latest news, foreign and domestic—"to show the very form and body of the times." And it will have a sub-editor or correspondent in every county in the State,—thereby ensuring a local interest which cannot fail of rendering it attractive to all sections.
Every effort will be made to render the JOURNAL an acquisition, especially to the business community, and a valuable medium through which their wants and operations may be made known. Advertising will be arranged at low rates and the most attractive inducements to secure it be extended.
The size of the JOURNAL will be double medium, and it will contain EIGHT neatly printed pages. It will be gotten up in the best style of typography and printed on new material.
